WESTERN LUNATIC ASYLUM.-Theannual report of Superintendent Blackford of the Western Lunatic Asylum, at Staunton, contains much interesting information. The whole number of patients under treatment during the year was 677; the average monthly number was 608; deaths 36; discharged 41. The number of patients admitted from 1827 to 1880 has been 4,112, of whom there have died 1,185; there have been discharged 2,373, leaving now in the asylum 600.

The Superintendent alludes to the overcrowded condition of the asylums of the State and recommends their enlargement or the building of new ones. The asylums are now all crowded beyond their capacity, and many insane are held in the county jails, where their condition is deplorable. The necessity for early treatment is also strongly set forth by the Superintendent, which of course cannot be with the patients outside of the asylums.

TATTOOED GIBLS .- In Algeria every girl born of native parents is tattooed on her forehead between the eyebrows and just on the root of the nose, with a cross formed of several straight lines of small stars running close together. These tattoo marks are a dark blue color. Algerian women are also considerably tattooed on the back of their hands, their forearms and cheats, as well as on their shoulders, their wrists being especially adorned with drawings representing bracelets and flowers strung together. As a rule women are the operators, and it is principally on children between the ages of 7 and 8 that they have to exercise their art. They use sometimes a needle, but more frequently a Barbary fig tree thorn. They employ kehl as a coloring substance. It is a kind of fine powder made from sulphur of antimony, which is also in great request by the Algerian women for the purpose of face-painting. nose, with a cross formed of several straight lines
